The Executive Director
Parivarthan Counselling, Training and Research Centre

Dear Malini

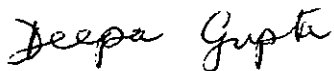

I am happy to give you feedback on my continuing experience with Parivarthan since my training days in 2004-2005. The training was a journey of self-discovery and enabled me to develop my skills as a counselor. It also helped to improve and enhance all my relationships.

My work as a counselor is both challenging and fulfilling. The various workshops conducted by Parivarthan ensure continued professional growth. They cover several aspects and contribute to being a 'well-rounded' counselor. It is also a privilege to learn from visiting experts from all parts of the world who conduct some of these workshops in Parivarthan.

Peer supervision is another area I benefit from. Feedback from co-counselors is of great value and a continuous learning process.

I wish Parivarthan all the best in its continued endeavour to promote the well-being of each person who finds his/her way there and the community at large who benefit from the good work.

With warmest regards,

(Deepa Gupta)
